What is ENACTED about?

ENACTED - European Network of Active Civil society for Education and Diversity places its focus on creating the space for synergies and collaborations between formal education providers (schools) and informal/non-formal education providers (Civil society Organisations-CSOs), whereby exchange of good practices can be encouraged and facilitated.

ENACTED steps in to offer a database and useful tool in the form of a networking platform that CSOs and schools can use to advance their work and upscale their effectiveness regarding integration of NAMS in education.

NAMS in this project specifically refers to Newly Arrived Migrant Students who are in need for better inclusion, integration and progression in their new host societies.

Who does ENACTED benefit?

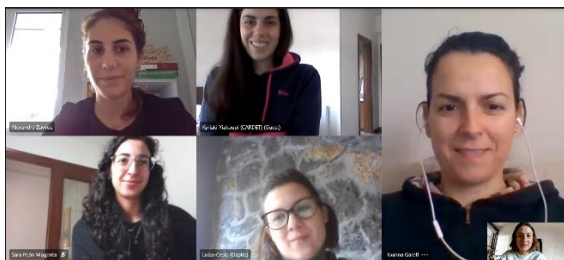

What happened until now?

- In April 2020, the ENACTED partners participated in the kick-off meeting virtually. The meeting has marked the launch of the 'European Network of Active Civil Society for Education and Diversity - #ENACTED' project. During the meeting partners went through their roles, the work plan activities for the state of the art on practices of inclusive education as well as they were presented the methodology for the online platform.

- The second partnership meeting took place in November 2020 in an online format. During the meeting, partners discussed about the project progress, key milestones and some of the challenges that need to be tackled.

- The ENCATED consolidated report that showcases the main cross-country findings in a holistic manner is completed. This report includes country policy profiles for inclusive education.

What is coming up next?

Development of the Inclusive Education Acceleration Online Platform. This is the most critical and innovative component of the ENACTED as all major functions regarding the project's innovative networking activities will take place through the Online Platform.
